

I WANT TO TRUST YOU,

but I don't

LYSA TERKEURST

Feb. 27th
6:30 PM

Ladies' Study: I Want to Trust You, But I Don't by Lysa TerKeurst

Broken trust has a way of shaking us to our core, leaving us with questions that feel impossible to answer:

- Can anyone truly be trusted?
- Is distrust a form of protection?
- How do I reconcile my doubts about God when life feels so unfair?

In I Want to Trust You, But I Don't, Lysa TerKeurst vulnerably shares her journey through heartbreak and uncertainty, wrestling with these very questions. Together, we'll explore biblical truths, unpack the complexities of trust, and find encouragement for navigating life's hardest relational and spiritual challenges.

Our first gathering will be on Thursday, February 27, 2025, at 6:30 PM. This will be a time to connect with other women, share openly, and begin this journey toward healing and deeper faith.

For more information, please reach out to Dawn Conrad. We hope to see you there!